Problem Statement

In South Africa we are presently faced with a situation where young people have little guidance because parents, caregivers and educators have resigned from their family responsibilities as a result of the dire pressure that is caused by poverty, under-education, gangsterism, crime, drugs, abuse, violence and social disintegration. We find that society has shifted the focus of instilling the Youth with essential life skills away from the family unit to the educational sector. It is evident that the education sector of society is unable to cope with this role at the moment due to the increased ratio of Youth to Educator and the ever present violence and social disintegration in predominantly our poor communities.

Organisational Background

PROUD2B ME® Foundation (086-979-NPO) is a democratic, non-profit community development organization based on the international fundamental principles of family and community preservation. The PROUD2B ME® Foundation (hereinafter “PROUD2B ME®”) is involved in a broad range of activities and projects within the Education, Community Development and Social Development fields through building peace within and strengthening communities and families. PROUD2B ME® believes that to make any lasting change in any system or society the change must come from within. This implies that for any sustainable transformation to happen in our country we need to start at the basic foundation of the country, our citizens. The PROUD2B ME® approach to sustainable transformation and the successful strengthening of our communities involves empowering the youth.

Our motto for this responsibility is:

The fundamental goal of PROUD2B ME® Youth is to strengthen community bonds by developing skills amongst the youth that will promote healthy and sustainable families, positive learning environments and a safer, more integrated and non-violent society.

Programme Objectives & Activities

1. The main objectives identified for this programme are:

To share a common purpose; to inform, enable and encourage youth and ultimately help to contribute to creating a safer, more integrated and non-violent society in our country. By integrated we mean:

- Re-integration of youth with our primary (parents) and secondary (educators) caregivers. To help bridge the divide between youth and parents
- Resumption of responsibility for our own actions, “my actions, my responsibility”.
- For youth and their parents and educators to reconnect and touch each other’s lives in a positive way
- RE-integration of positive youth with other youth – a strengthening of community bonds to encourage an extended community approach to youth interaction

Ultimately resulting in loving cared for, capable and independent children as our next generation
